

NFSA Receives Invitation to Meet with Key NAHB Committee

Tuesday, March 30, 2010, Patterson, New York – Following what NFSA President John Viniello called a very productive meeting earlier this month with NAHB’s CEO and key staff, NFSA has received an invitation by NAHB’s Senior Officer leadership to meet with their Construction, Codes and Standards Committee. The meeting will be held in conjunction with their Spring Board meeting in Washington, D.C. during the week of April 19.

“We are very encouraged by the positive response we have received from the National Association of Home Builders,” said NFSA President John Viniello. “We are confident that as our respective codes, technical and training staffs get together in meaningful discussion, areas of mutual benefit will be identified and addressed.”

As the relationship between the two organizations continues to evolve, NFSA will post information at the website (nfsa.org) and on its social network.
